To all to whom these Presents shall come,—GREETING:

C. P. PLAXTON,
Acting Deputy Minister of Justice,
Canada.

Whereas, in and by the One hundred and twenty-eighth section of a certain Act of the Parliament of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, passed in the Session thereof held in the thirtieth and thirty-first years of the Reign of Her late Majesty Queen Victoria, and called and known as "The British North America Act, 1867," it is amongst other things in effect enacted that every Member of the Senate of Our Dominion of Canada shall, before taking his

After a while, His Excellency the Governor General having come, and being seated on the Throne,—

The Honourable the Speaker commanded the Gentleman Usher of the Black Rod to proceed to the House of Commons and acquaint that House that,—

It is His Excellency the Governor General's pleasure that they attend him immediately in the Senate Chamber.

The House of Commons being come,

His Excellency the Governor General was then pleased to open the fourth Session of the eighteenth Parliament by a Gracious Speech to both Houses, as follows:—

Honourable Members of the Senate:

Members of the House of Commons:

The announcement that Their Majesties King George VI and Queen Elizabeth have graciously decided to visit Canada in the months of May and June has been received with rejoicing throughout the Dominion. The honour of welcoming their King and Queen, in person, on their own soil, is a privilege which will be shared with enthusiasm and pride by all His Majesty's Canadian subjects. The visit will be the first paid by the reigning Sovereign to any of His self-governing Dominions. It will be the first time a British King and Queen have been in North America. It is deeply gratifying that Their Majesties' tour will embrace all the provinces of Canada.

The official visit paid Canada in August last by the President of the United States was the occasion of unusually warm demonstrations of friendship and understanding upon both sides of our common border. It is particularly pleasing to the citizens of our country that the King and Queen have found it possible to accept the invitation of the President to visit the United States before the conclusion of their Canadian tour.

My ministers have found it necessary to give anxious and continuous consideration to developments in the international situation and their effects upon Canada. Our own relations with other countries continue friendly, but the aggressive policies actively pursued in other continents have inevitably had a disturbing effect upon every part of the world.

The Government shared in the general sense of relief that the appalling disaster of war, which threatened Europe during the month of September last, was averted, and in the recognition which that crisis manifested of the widespread will of the peoples for peace. They are hopeful that the efforts now being made to find a solution for the specific differences which are causing friction will meet with success. They recognize, nevertheless, that time is required for these forces to work, and that the possibility of further tension in the meantime must be faced. In this situation, the Government have considered that the uncertainties of the future, and the conditions of modern warfare, make it imperative that Canada's defences be materially strengthened.

Two years ago, the appropriations for defence were substantially increased, and a beginning made on a program of modernization to safeguard the country from the dangers of attack. The Government intend to pursue this policy vigorously, and to propose to Parliament that the program of defence should be further augmented, and that particular emphasis should be laid upon air defence.

Legislation will be introduced to establish a Defence Purchasing Board with power to purchase equipment for the defence services and to ensure that, where private manufacture is necessary, profits in connection with such are fair and reasonable, and that the public interest is protected.

While taking the measures necessary to assure the maintenance of our national integrity against the possibility of external aggression, the Government have sought in positive ways to strengthen the mutual interests which unite Canada in friendly relations with other countries.

You will be asked to approve the Trade Agreement with the United States of America, signed at Washington on November the 17th, 1938. This agreement fulfils the hope expressed in the Speech from the Throne, last year, for an agreement with the United States, which would confirm and enlarge the advantages of the agreement concluded in 1935.

Simultaneously with the conclusion of the new agreement between Canada and the United States, a far-reaching agreement was effected between the United States and the United Kingdom. Taken together, the agreements constitute a constructive contribution toward a betterment of world conditions. It is deeply gratifying to the Government that in their efforts to increase, and to ensure over a longer period of time, the advantages to Canadian producers and consumers secured in earlier agreements, they were able, at the same time, to further the ends of international good-will.

The Canada-United States agreements have involved, in addition to the wider markets secured for Canadian products, a thorough-going revision of the Canadian tariff structure, and a reduction of taxes on trade much greater than that made by any previous Parliament, or by any other country in recent years.

Notice has been given, effective December 31, 1939, terminating the Canada-West Indies Agreement concluded in 1925. My ministers hope that negotiations will shortly be entered upon leading to a new agreement which will be mutually beneficial to the West Indian Colonies and to Canada. In connection therewith the Tariff Board has been directed to make a careful examination of the sugar preferences and duties.

Unemployment in Canada continues to receive the unremitting attention of local, provincial and federal authorities. Having regard to the existing division of powers and obligations under the British North America Act, responsibility for unemployment and the solution of its problems is necessarily divided. There has been an increasing assumption of obligations on the part of the Federal Government.

Employment in war industry and the regimentation of masses of men for purposes of war have, to appearances, afforded in some countries a solution of their problem of unemployment. In Canada other methods of dealing with the problem have been followed.

The Dominion Government have taken active measures to stimulate private employment through Home Improvement Plan, the National Housing Act, and the Municipal Improvements Assistance Act. Under these measures certain local taxes have been assumed, and loans made to individuals, organizations and municipalities. The sales tax has been eliminated on important building materials. Special aid has been given to the mining industry by subventions, tax exemptions and improved transportation facilities. At the same time, direct employment has been increased through a substantial expansion of federal public works, and through assistance given to the provinces in the construction of highways, for land settlement, for special projects for farm employment and for forest conservation.

Provision has also been made by the Dominion Government for grants-in-aid to the provinces to assist in the care of those suffering from unemployment and agricultural distress.

The various measures adopted to stimulate employment and afford relief to those in need have operated most successfully in those provinces which have supported them with full co-operation.

In Canada, the problem of unemployment has been aggravated in recent years by recurrent crop failures in the Western provinces, and by the serious business recession experienced in the last year in other parts of the world. The intensification of the problem has set forth in bold relief the obstacles which the existing division of constitutional authority places in the way of a solution.

The report of the Commission on Dominion-Provincial Relations will be presented to Parliament in the course of the present session. In accordance with the purpose for which the Commission was instituted, its report will provide the basis for, and the material essential to the deliberations of a National Conference, at which, among the important subjects to be dealt with, will be the problem of unemployment and social services generally. The Government have not altered their view that a national unemployment insurance scheme is essential to a permanent policy of meeting the problem of unemployment.

My ministers recognize that the plight of those who are still unemployed cannot await necessary constitutional amendments, nor the summoning of any conferences. They are prepared, therefore, notwithstanding constitutional impediments to effective action, to join with the provinces in a further determined effort to meet the immediate situation.

To this end it is proposed further to expand the Government's long range program of public undertakings. In pursuance of the policy of the active encouragement of employment, it is also proposed to undertake, with provincial co-operation, to provide assistance to municipalities which, as an alternative to the provision of direct relief, desire to expand their normal programs of civic improvements.

As a means of providing an opportunity for useful work and national service to single unemployed men, the assistance given to forest conservation will be extended to include other work of national importance.

The beneficial results of the Youth Training program, have demonstrated the wisdom of this experiment, and a measure will be introduced to increase its efficiency and expand its usefulness.

Notwithstanding the embarrassments and handicaps encountered in coping with the problem of unemployment, it is gratifying to be able to record that, during the past year, there has been a material reduction in the number of those receiving agricultural aid, and a reduction also in the total number of those receiving public assistance due to unemployment and agricultural distress. At the beginning of the present winter the number of those receiving such public assistance was almost forty per cent less than two years ago. Over the same period the number of persons actually in employment has largely increased.

Continuous improvement in the position of the fishing industry as a whole has been reflected in annual increases for the past few years in the aggregate amounts received by the fishermen from their work. The Department of Fisheries, have given, and will continue to give, increased attention to the problem of marketing. The Government have also assisted fishermen substantially through direct aid.

In order to avert economic disaster to a large part of our population, my Ministers, under the terms of the Wheat Board Act, approved, for the current crop year, an initial payment for wheat as recommended by the Board.

The Prairie Farm Rehabilitation Plan will be continued, the experience of the past year having demonstrated its efficacy in improving the agricultural areas of the West.

Bills will be introduced to regulate Grain Exchanges along the lines laid down in the Report of the Royal Commission on Grain Marketing, to revise the Canada Grain Act, and to assist further in the marketing of farm products.

The Trans-Canada Airways will shortly provide a passenger service, in addition to the air mail and air express services already in operation. Preparations for the inauguration of the Transatlantic Air Service are being actively continued in collaboration with the Governments of the United Kingdom and of Ireland.

In order to implement the recommendations of the Royal Commission to Investigate the Penal System of Canada, a Bill to appoint a commission to administer the penitentiaries will be again introduced.

Other legislative proposals will be laid before you and proceeded with as time and opportunity offer.

Members of the House of Commons:

The estimates for the Public Service, together with the Public Accounts, will be laid before you.

Honourable Members of the Senate:

Members of the House of Commons:

In this critical time of the world's affairs, I pray that Divine Providence may guide and bless your deliberations.

The Commons withdrew.

His Excellency the Governor General was pleased to retire.

The Senate was resumed.

The Honourable Senator Dandurand presented to the Senate a Bill intituled: "An Act relating to Railways."

The said Bill was read the first time.

The Honourable the Speaker informed the Senate that a copy of the Speech of His Excellency the Governor General had been left in his hands.

The same was read by the Honourable the Speaker.

On motion, it was—

Ordered, That the Speech of His Excellency the Governor General be taken into consideration on Tuesday, next.

The Honourable the Speaker presented to the Senate the Report of the Librarian, for the year 1938.

The same was then read by the Clerk, as follows:—

LIBRARY OF PARLIAMENT

Report of the Librarian for 1938

To the Honourable the Speaker of the Senate:

The General Librarian of Parliament has the honour to submit the Report on the Library for 1938.

Work on the Supplementary Catalogue of books donated and purchased during 1938 has been steadily pushed and the Catalogue will be issued at an earlier date than usual.

The undersigned records with regret the passing of the Honourable Martin Burrell, P.C., LL.D., Parliamentary Librarian, former Minister of Agriculture and holder of three other portfolios in the Cabinet of Sir Robert Borden. Mr. Burrell died at his residence on the 20th March last, after a short illness. He was in his eightieth year. Mr. Burrell was eminent as a statesman, a man of letters, and an eloquent and witty speaker. His death constitutes a loss to the whole Dominion, particularly to those who were in close contact with him. When he retired from political life in 1920 he became Parliamentary Librarian. Surrounded by books he loved so well, he found in that position the greatest pleasure in his life of service. He was a warm friend, a delightful companion, a most interesting conversationalist, an author of distinction, an excellent speaker, an amusing and interesting raconteur and a great music lover. Kindly and courteous, he will be long remembered by the staff of the Parliamentary Library.

On October 1 last Mr. Albert Beaudry, French Senior Library Assistant, was retired on superannuation. Mr. Beaudry had done honourable and useful service in the Library for fifty-one years. The Civil Service Commission has appointed to the vacant position Mr. E. E. Trudel who has been a Library Assistant since 1920.

The congested state of the Library has been referred to many times during the past few years. The General Librarian, at the previous suggestions of the Joint Committee, has been taking up the matter with the Public Works Department. Temporary relief of a substantial character has been afforded by the allocation to the Library, by the Minister of Public Works, of a large room in the Records Building. By the courtesy of the Department of Public Works, this room will be fitted with 10,000 feet of shelving. During next year some 80,000 volumes of Sessional Papers will have to be transferred there and shelved. While this does not settle the question of adequate provision for the expansion of the Library in the future, it does afford some relief and will make for more convenient arrangement and disposal of the books now in the Library.

The work of indexing the Catalogue on cards has been going on for three years. A long time will elapse before that work is completed as there are some five hundred thousand volumes to be so indexed.

An endeavour has been made to secure for the Library the most important of the new books, especially those dealing with economics, political and social science, and constitutional questions. The Library has made every effort to see that our collection of documents published by the different Provinces and by other Dominions is complete and up-to-date. We have also been successful in obtaining copies of the briefs submitted to the Royal Commission on Dominion Provincial Relations by the Provincial Governments and by various public and private bodies.

Among the valuable additions to the library in the past year may be mentioned the first complete edition of the "Greville Memoirs, 1814-1860," edited by Lytton Strachey and Roger Fulford, and of which only 630 sets have been printed; one volume of l'"Encyclopédie Française" and the "Nouvelle Encyclopédie pratique de l'Electricité" by Henri Desarces.

In addition to the ordinary purchase of works dealing with Canadian or American history, we were fortunate enough to secure at a recent auction sale of a booklover's library, a few Canadian incunabula and other rare and valuable books.

Another beautiful volume of the Catalogue of Mr. Frederick J. Nettlefold's art collection has been received. This and many other interesting donations, which will be found listed in the first pages of the Supplementary Catalogue, are gratefully acknowledged.

Respectfully submitted,

FELIX DESROCHERS,

Ordered, That the same do lie on the Table.

With leave of the Senate, and—

On motion, it was—

Ordered, That when the Senate adjourns to-day, it do stand adjourned until Tuesday, next, at three o'clock in the afternoon.

The Senate adjourned.

The Committee recommend:—

1. That the plan of organization of the Senate be amended by adding thereto the following positions:—

Black Rod's Branch:

- 1 Clerk, grade 4;
- 1 Chief of Protective Staff;
- 1 Assistant Chief of Protective Staff;
- 3 Sergeant Constables;
- 2 Constables of Protective Staff;
- 8 Confidential Messengers;
- 7 Parliamentary Messengers;
- 1 Parliamentary Housekeeper and Chief of Char Staff;
- 1 Locksmith and Cabinet Maker.

Postal Branch:

- 1 Clerk, Grade 4;
- 1 Clerk, Grade 3.

Stenographic Service:

- 1 Clerk, Grade 4.

Committee Branch:

- 1 Committee Clerk.

Law Branch:

- 1 Secretary, Law Clerk's Branch.

2. The Committee beg to say that the Commissioners of Internal Economy of the House of Commons have made a like recommendation to place on a permanent basis temporary staff of that House holding similar positions.

3. Should the additions to the Senate organization recommended above be approved by the Senate, it will be necessary under the provisions of the Civil Service Act to request the Civil Service Commission to make the permanent appointments from the temporary staff of the Senate, and to fix the salary ranges.

4. The Committee understands it is the intention of the Civil Service Commission to consider simultaneously the recommendations approved by the two Houses of Parliament.

5. The new permanent positions created by the recommendation in paragraph 1 of this report will not necessitate the employment of additional staff nor any additional expenditure.

6. To bring themselves within the established classification for permanent positions, and thus obtain the benefits of the Civil Service Superannuation Act, some employees may be obliged to take a reduction in salary. It will be a matter for each employee eligible for permanency to determine for himself whether or not he desires to take advantage of a permanent appointment which carries with it the benefits of superannuation even though the salary may be less, or remain in his present temporary status without the benefits of superannuation.

7. The Committee directs attention to paragraph 3 of the report of the Special Committee of the House of Commons appointed to inquire into the operation of the Civil Service Act, in which it concurs, namely:—

"From the evidence it appears there is at present a considerable discrepancy in salary ranges . . . as between the Senate and House of Commons, which militates against efficiency and co-operation. Your Committee recommends that the Organization Branch (of the Civil Service Commission) be charged with special responsibility with regard to salary levels in order to simplify ranges and also to thoroughly investigate salaries paid in comparable classes within and without the Service."

All which is respectfully submitted.

Chairman.

2. Although promoted Mr. Gilman still continues to carry on the extra duties which he undertook in his previous position and owing to his knowledge of the procedure it is essential that he continue to do so.

3. I beg to suggest that the Committee report to the Senate recommending that the payment of $480 to Mr. Gilman as part time Head Clerk in the Senate be continued while he is employed in his present position as Chief Accountant of the Senate, and that the Civil Service Commission be requested to take the necessary action required by section 17 of the Civil Service Act.

The Right Honourable Senator Graham, from the Special Committee of the Senate appointed to inquire into and report upon the best means of relieving the country from its extremely serious railway condition and financial burden consequent thereto, presented their third Report.

The same was then read by the Clerk, as follows:—

THURSDAY, 11th May, 1939.

The Special Committee of the Senate which was appointed on March 30, 1938, to inquire into and report upon the best means of relieving the country from its extremely serious railway condition and the financial burden appertaining thereto begs leave to make their third Report as follows:—

The Committee made an interim report on June 30, 1938, after having held 43 sessions and examined 31 of the principal officers of the two railway systems. With a view to completing the inquiry the Committee was re-appointed on March 7th of this year, since which time it has held eleven sessions and examined fourteen further witnesses. The proceedings of the Committee, as recorded during the session of 1938 and to date during the present session, covered 1,903 printed pages, and 106 exhibits bearing on the problem have been filed with the Committee.

The submissions to the Committee have been of great value and interest to the members, and have served to enlighten the country at large upon this very important question. As a result of the inquiry, it is possible that the Canadian people have acquired another view—possibly a totally different view—as to what our National Railway property stands for in the life of the Canadian people. To many it has no doubt seemed that our National Railways have been, as it were, a drag upon Canadian progress because of the deficits. To many Canadians it will doubtless be news that the Canadian National Railways have no operating loss and that the deficits, about which so much has been heard and which admittedly have such a serious effect upon our national finances, pertain entirely to interest charges due public investors and relate for the most part to former privately-owned lines which the government took over and continued in operation in the national interests. It is important also to bear in mind that the interest referred to is guaranteed by the government of Canada and is a continuing obligation regardless of what disposition be made of the National lines.

The Committee was impressed with the large measure of public service rendered by the Canadian National Railways in the interests of pioneering and development, the cost of which is included in the deficits referred to. These services are of great value in the economic development of the country, but cannot be operated at a profit from the purely railway standpoint. It is felt that it would be disastrous policy to attempt to eliminate railway deficits by the withdrawal of essential railway facilities.

There was exhibited before the Committee a large scale map indicating that out of a total of 21,972 miles of line in Canada, and on a traffic level equal to 1937, 4,034 miles earn enough to pay operating expenses, taxes and interest charges, 4,087 miles pay operating expenses, but fail to earn sufficient to fully meet taxes and interest, while 13,851 miles fail to earn enough revenue even to pay operating expenses. From this it will be noted what a large percentage of non-paying Canadian National mileage has to be carried by the paying or marginal lines. Nevertheless the marginal and the non-paying lines make a valuable contribution to the national life of Canada which contribution cannot be measured by the yardstick of ordinary business return. It has been utilized as an instrument of national development and obliged to operate extensive mileage for reasons of national policy.

The Committee was impressed also with the great potential value attaching to National lines which are located so as to make possible the development of the immense mining and forest areas of Northern Canada. The National Railways are splendidly located for the future development of the Dominion, and if the evidence taken by the Committee should do nothing more than direct attention to the potential value of the National Railways to the future of Canada it will have served a useful public purpose.

In like manner, the evidence placed before the Committee has been illustrative of the value to the Dominion of the Canadian Pacific Railway system. What the Canadian Pacific has meant to Canada, both at home and abroad, is, your Committee feels sure, appreciated by all thinking Canadians. It has shown courage and enterprise, has had a major share in the development of Western Canada, and Canadian Pacific Service has been a credit to this country in all parts of the world. The financial reputation of the Canadian Pacific has been equally high, and no other field of investment in normal times seemed to offer greater opportunity. In that way, the Canadian Pacific has attracted to the Dominion much capital from all parts of the world, and the credit of that company has been second only to that of the Dominion itself. That the earning power of the Canadian Pacific under present abnormal conditions has been so seriously impaired is no reflection upon the management of that company, but is largely due to world conditions from which its national rival and practically every railway on the North American continent has been suffering.

Notwithstanding this general situation, Sir Edward Beatty assured the Committee, during its 1938 inquiry, that he was not alarmed over the outlook for the Canadian Pacific Railway. By strict economy that company has been able to survive the stress of recent years, and he looked forward with confidence to the future. It is satisfactory to note also that at the recent annual meeting of the Canadian Pacific shareholders, Sir Edward Beatty found it possible to state that it was his conviction that in spite of the difficulties which it faces, the Canadian Pacific is in a position to maintain its independent existence for years to come.

One prominent fact develops from the evidence adduced before the Committee, namely, that the trend of railway transportation in Canada, as elsewhere, is steadily downward. That evidence shows that a comparison of the years 1935, 1936 and 1937 with 1923 indicates an appreciable increase both in production in Canada and in the volume of banking business, while, on the other hand, the gross revenues of the railways show a decline amounting to 26 per cent in 1937. This decline has taken place notwithstanding the fact that the population of Canada increased from approximately 9 millions in 1923 to 11 millions in 1937.

The principal reasons for that decrease may be attributed to the growth of competition on the highways, inland waters, and shipments through the Panama Canal. The major development of highway competition occurred between 1923 and 1937. During the same period purely Canadian traffic through the Welland Canal increased from 3 million tons to 11 millions, and purely Canadian freight through the Panama Canal from 1 million to 4 million tons annually over the period. At the same time, passenger traffic on Canadian railways declined also 50 per cent.

Evidence given to the Committee indicated that highway competition is practically unrestricted as regards regulation, carries the cream of the traffic, and operates most effectively during the non-winter months. As opposed to this, the railways are extensively regulated, and must operate under all weather conditions. Because of these disadvantages to the railways, the government has recently offered a measure of relief through the "Agreed Charge" feature of "The Transport Act, 1938." By the provisions of this Act, the railways are now enabled to make contracts with shippers on an "agreed charge" basis for through business. It is too soon to determine the possible effect of this new legislation upon the situation, but your Committee is satisfied that the position of the railways to-day in the transportation field is quite different from that of 1923.

In the opinion of some members of the Committee the emphasis which has been placed upon Canadian National deficits has from the outset of the inquiry placed our National Railway System in a somewhat false position before the public who, previous to this inquiry, had no comprehensive knowledge of the development of the Canadian National System and the service it has rendered to the country. Unfortunately its debt and deficits seemed to stand as an indictment against its administration, and although Canadian Pacific business was also on the down grade, and was fighting its own battle, its contribution before the Committee focussed entire attention upon Canadian National Railway deficits as though they were the cause of all our railway troubles. The psychology of this situation placed the Canadian National Railways in the position of having to defend and justify its administration.

The establishment of this Committee followed a campaign of propaganda on behalf of unification which has been carried on by the President of the C.P.R. since the recommendations of the Duff Commission were placed upon the statute book. Though no evidence was produced before us tending to show that either of the two railways attempted to delay or impede co-operative action under the 1933 Act, we feel that in the very nature of things co-operation has been made more difficult to achieve while one of the parties has been engaged in a vigorous campaign to convince the public that the results of co-operation will be negligible and that unification is the only practical solution. We feel, further, that this campaign of propaganda has obscured the underlying problem of the adjustment of the railway industry to the changed conditions brought about by the development of highway transport. Your Committee is of opinion that the problem created by highway transport is one which will require much study to co-ordinate the new and the old agencies of transport so as to obtain the maximum economic advantages of both. A very considerable part of the Canadian railway problem arises from this veritable revolution in the art of transportation.

The chief proposal under consideration was that of the Canadian Pacific Railway for the unification of the two railways, it being contended on behalf of that plan that savings of $75,000,000 annually could be made for the combined properties on a 1930 traffic level, or of some $56,000,000 to $59,000,000 on a 1937 traffic level. The Committee inquired closely into these possibilities, from which it appeared that only a portion of the savings could be definitely measured, and these applied more particularly to road abandonments which, in the judgment of the Committee, could not be made.

Details of other savings relating to the closing of shops, stations and other facilities, as well as reduction of train services, were not disclosed by the Canadian Pacific. Thus it was impossible for the Committee to give consideration to the proposals included in the larger sphere of savings, and the reluctance of the Canadian Pacific to divulge this vital information because of possible public reaction did not assist the Committee to reach a conclusion favourable to unification.

This lack of vital information was not confined to estimated savings, but, as was developed during the 1938 sessions of the Committee, was apparent as well in the consideration of the possible distribution of joint savings between the government and the Canadian Pacific, when the Committee was unable to ascertain from representatives of the Canadian Pacific Railway, except in general terms, how joint net revenue under unification would be divided. Further leading questions to the Canadian Pacific in relation to financial matters under unification, such as new capital requirements, refunding of Canadian Pacific maturing obligations in the event of unification, and the inevitable pledge that the government would be obliged to give in connection with the new borrowings, all remained practically unanswered.

In other respects also objections appeared to the Committee to the adoption of unification, it being felt that any form of unification which attempts to preserve within one administration the principles of private and public ownership would be unworkable, the state being bound to become involved financially, with the result that it would be impossible afterwards to unscramble the properties and revert to the status quo. The adoption of such a policy would, in the opinion of many members of the Committee, lead inevitably to government ownership of all Canadian railways. There was the added danger referred to by the Duff Commission which would be involved in setting up a railway monopoly in Canada—a state within a state. In view of these considerations your Committee feel that unification cannot be recommended as a measure of public policy.

In view of this your Committee explored as thoroughly as possible the alternative of co-operation. It was contended by officials of the National Railways that all savings practical of attainment could be secured under a policy of enforced co-operation with respect to which it was held that savings of from $10,000,000 to $15,000,000 might be effected, even under present depressed condition of railway transport. Nevertheless, some members of the Committee felt that greater savings than these might be secured from unification if the people of Canada were prepared to pay the price of such drastic curtailment of railway services with attendant disabilities from the national and public standpoint as have been already alluded to.

It is recognized by your Committee that the adoption of co-operative measure has been disappointingly slow. The recommendations of the Duff Commission which, it is generally agreed, was a most excellent commission, have never in fact been applied in a practical sense, and there is reason to feel that considerable economy can be secured from co-operation if it is approached earnestly and with a will to accomplish results. Your Committee sees no reason why duplicate services and duplicate facilities could not be dealt with effectively by co-operation, and it is not considered advisable to modify the terms of the Canadian National-Canadian Pacific Act 1933, except as regards dismissal compensation for employees, until the possibilities of the present act have been more thoroughly ascertained. In any event, your Committee feels that the facts which it has brought to the knowledge of the public as to the slow progress of co-operative plans to date have had a valuable effect in stimulating both railway systems to further efforts in this direction; we have recently been advised that a number of important plans for co-operation are now under study, including a proposal for a complete pooling of all competitive passenger train services throughout the country, which offers an opportunity for important economies.

Complaint has been voiced by members of the Committee that, though five years have elapsed since co-operation as a measure of government policy became effective, so little has been accomplished. That criticism would seem to lose sight of the fact that even under unification five years and more would be required to secure expected results.

The evidence submitted to the Committee makes it clear that Canada's railway problem cannot be solved at one stroke. Any attempt to do so by drastic measures may be expected to produce even greater problems on account of the disturbance to communities served, because railways in most of Canada are and will remain an essential part of the country's transport facilities. The Committee feels that the situation may be ameliorated by co-operation aimed at elimination of duplicate services where no essential public interest is involved. A further amelioration may be expected as the economic spheres of railway and highway transport become more clearly defined and the competition between them is placed upon a fair and equitable basis of regulation and taxation. This is the general problem which is actively engaging the attention of governments not only in Canada, but in the United States and Great Britain.

The Committee has looked closely into the suggestion of the Canadian Pacific Railway that the evidence before the Committee be submitted to a firm of railway engineers and accountants of high standing, free from all interest in either railway system, to the end that such firm may study such evidence and especially its practical railway engineering and accounting features, and make such physical examination as it may deem necessary, with a view to making a full report as to what in the judgment of such firm would be the amount of savings which could be effected by a system of unified management, and to what extent, if any, such savings would entail an impairment of services to the Canadian people.

After due consideration, the Committee reached the conclusion that the proposed reference to an outside body was not practicable in view of the fact that the essentials of the problem are not alone of railway practice, but involve questions of broad national policy, which have to be decided upon by the Canadian parliament and its executives. Such responsibilities cannot be delegated.

The Committee, however, would recommend that the evidence submitted and the exhibits filed be reported, and thus made available to all who may be interested in the Canadian transportation problem. It is felt that much valuable evidence has been added to the public record. It brings up to date the record made available in the first instance by the report of the Drayton-Acworth-Smith Commission of 1917, and so greatly added to by the Duff Commission of 1931-32. That Commission went more fully into the railway question than it has been possible for this Committee to do. The membership of the Duff Commission included one of the leading successful railway executives of the United States, as well as the man who is now chairman of the London (England) Passenger Transport Board. That Commission, which made a physical examination of the principal properties of both railway systems, took occasion to close its report as follows:—

We feel compelled, as a matter of public duty, to strike a serious note of warning to the people of Canada. Unless the country is prepared to adopt the plan we have proposed, or some other equally effective measures, to secure the efficient and economical working of both railway systems and thereby not only reduce the burden on the federal treasury but improve the financial position of the privately-owned railway, then the only courses that would be left would be either to effect savings in national expenditure in other directions, or to add still further to the burdens under which the industries of the country are suffering by the imposition of yet further taxation. Failing the adoption of one or other of these courses, and there are obvious limits to their application, the very stability of the nation's finances and the financial credit of the Canadian Pacific Railway will be threatened with serious consequences to the people of Canada and to those who have invested their savings in that railway.

The recommendations thus referred to were embodied in the Statutes of Canada, but their working out has not been assisted by a desire of one of the railways to impose upon the people of Canada a policy rejected by the Duff Commission for the same reasons which compel this Committee once more to reject unification as a measure of national policy. In the opinion of the Committee it is in the interest of the railways and of business generally that the uncertainty resulting from the Canadian Pacific agitation for unification be ended by frank recognition of the fact that unification of the railways is not possible of adoption, and that further and more serious attempts should be made to give effect to the letter and the spirit of the Canadian National-Canadian Pacific Act of 1933, the two railways to agree between themselves to a referee—preferably the Chairman of the Board of Transport Commissioners—for the adjustment of such differences as may arise concerning co-operative policies. That, in the opinion of the Committee, offers the only practical course looking to the improvement of our present railway difficulties.

The Committee is of the opinion that this adjustment of difference with respect to co-operative measures can be accomplished within the confines of the 1933 Act which, for the purposes of effecting economies and providing for more remunerative operation, directs both railways to agree, and continuously to endeavour to agree, upon such co-operative measures, plans and arrangements as are fair and reasonable and best adapted to effect such economies. As to the selection of a referee, that legislation provides that the Chief Commissioner of the Board of Transport Commissioners shall be presiding officer of any arbitral tribunal, to which each railway shall appoint a representative, and on matters of sufficient importance two additional members may be appointed by the President of the Exchequer Court, or a judge of the Supreme Court of Canada. This provision of the Act has never yet been set in motion, though it may be invoked at request of either company. There, ready at hand, is all the legislation necessary to give effect to the Committee's recommendation that the Chief of the Board of Transport Commissioners act as referee in the event of either railway company declining to consider a co-operative proposal emanating from the other railway.

In concluding its labours, the Committee extends its thanks to the officials of the two Canadian railway systems and the various other witnesses who have appeared before it; it also desires to express its appreciation of the services of Colonel O. M. Biggar, K.C., the Committee's counsel, for his valuable assistance in facilitating the work of the Committee. The services of the joint secretaries and reporters also have been of the highest character.

All which is respectfully submitted.

Honourable Members of the Senate:

Members of the House of Commons:

I thank you sincerely for your Addresses received on my arrival at Quebec. The Queen and I deeply appreciate your loyal and affectionate messages.

I am very happy that my visit to Canada affords me the opportunity of meeting in Parliament assembled, the members of both Houses. No ceremony could more completely symbolize the free and equal association of the nations of our Commonwealth. As my father said, on the occasion of his Silver Jubilee, the unity of the British Empire is no longer expressed by the supremacy of the time-honoured Parliament that sits at Westminster. It finds expression to-day in the free association of nations enjoying common principles of government, a common attachment to ideals of peace and freedom, and bound together by a common allegiance to the Crown.

The Queen and I have been deeply touched by the warmth of the welcome accorded us since our arrival in Canada. We are greatly looking forward to visiting each of the Provinces, and, before our return, to paying a brief visit to the United States.

It is my earnest hope that my present visit may give my Canadian people a deeper conception of their unity as a nation. I hope also that my visit to the United States will help to maintain the very friendly relations existing between that great country and the nations of the Commonwealth.

These visits, like the one recently made by the Queen and myself to the continent of Europe, will, we trust, be viewed as an expression of the spirit of our peoples which seeks ardently for closer friendship and better relations not only with our kith and kin but with the peoples of all nations and races.

PRAYERS.

Pursuant to the Order of the Day, the Senate proceeded to the consideration of the third Report of the Special Committee of the Senate appointed to inquire into and report upon the best means of relieving the country from its extremely serious railway condition and the financial burden appertaining thereto.

The Honourable Senator Dandurand, seconded by the Right Honourable Senator Graham, moved that the said Report be now adopted.

The Honourable Senator Beaubien, seconded by the Honourable Senator Gordon, moved, in amendment, that the said Report be not now adopted but that it be amended by striking out all the paragraphs after the second paragraph, save and excepting the last paragraph, and substituting therefor the following:—

It is deeply regretted that an unanimous report was found impossible of attainment, as in a matter of such grave importance, at the present juncture, the added weight of unanimity in the Committee would have been of very great value not only to Parliament but as well to all our people who are now so heavily burdened with taxation.

CANADIAN NATIONAL CAPITALIZATION AND DEFICITS

The Canadian National constitutes for the nation its most obdurate and perilous domestic problem. The outlay of Canada to December 31, 1938, on its publicly-owned railway system, including interest, has been in excess of $3,300,000,000, of which the greater part has been brought about by recurring yearly deficits assumed and loans made by the Canadian Government to the Canadian National.

The cash deficit in 1938, substantially greater than in 1937, as shown in the Canadian National Railways Annual Report for 1938, is $54,314,195. This deficit does not include capital losses of $2,712,877 charged against Proprietor's Equity under the Canadian National Capital Revision Act of 1937, nor does it include interest on $672,688,000, the principal amount of such Proprietor's Equity. The aggregate contributions of the Government to the System as at March 31, 1938, written off to Consolidated Fund, has amounted to $838,000,000. (See Public Accounts, 1938, Appendix 28). In addition, the aggregate of interest to December 31, 1936, on Government loans to the System accrued and unpaid, which was transferred to the Canadian National Securities Trust, under the Act referred to, has amounted to $574,781,000.

The above large sums already written off represent in reality assumption by the Dominion of Canada of a very considerable total of capital which went into our railways, and entail as well a substantial addition to the National Debt. No criticism of such writing off is implied in this report. The results, however, after the writing off, speak for themselves.

It is evident that the railway problem cannot continue to drift as it has done in the past, without more hardship to the taxpayer and great and imminent danger to the credit of Canada.

In view of the marked increase in Government expenditure and taxation within the last years, of our constantly growing requirements, more particularly for national defence, for the relief of large sections of the community, for rapidly expanding social legislation, and the corresponding greater necessity of husbanding the resources of the country, we are moved to quote anew the solemn admonition given to the nation by the Duff Royal Commission of 1932. It is far more justified to-day than it was seven years ago:—

We feel compelled, as a matter of public duty, to strike a serious note of warning to the people of Canada. Unless the country is prepared to adopt the plan we have proposed, or some other equally effective measures, to secure the efficient and economical working of both railway systems and thereby not only reduce the burden on the federal treasury but improve the financial position of the privately-owned railway, then the only courses that would be left would be either to effect savings in national expenditure in other directions or to add still further to the burdens under which the industries of the country are suffering by the imposition of yet further taxation. Failing the adoption of one or other of these courses, and there are obvious limits to their application, the very stability of the nation's finances and the financial credit of the Canadian Pacific Railway will be threatened, with serious consequences to the people of Canada and to those who have invested their savings in that railway.

REASONS FOR INACTION

It is contended that the expenditure of the Canadian National, even if excessive, provides for the subsistence of a portion of the population which, otherwise, might be under relief. Obviously, this is fallacious as nothing guarantees that such excess in expenditure goes to those otherwise in need of it and, above all, as such policy, if accepted, would lead to unrestrained wastage in all Government departments.

The complacent state of mind of many witnesses, including some officials, who seemed anxious to see the country resign itself to the perpetuation of unbearable deficits, is deplorable. To this end it was represented that these deficits were but an apparent loss to the country, as the Canadian National provided for the nation an equal value in services which were essential to its present well-being and future development. Such a contention is utterly inadmissible, as like adequate services can be, and in fact are, rendered by the other railway system in Canada, and by similar companies in other countries, at no cost to the nation.

Witnesses appearing before the Committee outlined solutions of the problem, in which there was implied no abandonment of essential services, but all were designed to reduce or eliminate unnecessary duplication and redundancy of services.

It is obvious that relief can be obtained otherwise only by a very large increase in revenues, which appears to be definitely unattainable either through increases in rates or through any conceivable growth of traffic.

REMEDIES SUGGESTED

Three different methods were proposed to the Committee for securing economies to reduce the burden of Canadian National deficits.

VOLUNTARY CO-OPERATION

A more effective application of the co-operative provisions of the Canadian National-Canadian Pacific Act, 1933, was recommended.

This suggestion is far from being promising. Since the coming into force of the above law in 1933, the total savings from arrangements now in effect, and others agreed upon by the railways but not yet in effect, will be less than $2,000,000 per annum.

Five years of trial has, it must be admitted, demonstrated that economies to be effected through voluntary co-operation are of a very minor order. Further, the evidence submitted on behalf of the officials of both railways made it abundantly clear that hope for the future in this regard is practically negligible. The absence of singleness of interest in the result to be obtained by economies, the continuous and not unnatural jealousies of officials as to the prestige of and immediate consequences to their respective properties, make the securing of what they describe as a balance of burden and advantage the subject of a long drawn-out and almost always futile struggle. In this respect any contention that the larger measure of responsibility for this futility rests on either one of the two companies more than on the other cannot certainly be supported by the evidence.

ENFORCED CO-OPERATION

A second recommendation, made by the President of the Canadian National, provides for the injection into negotiations between the railways of a new body consisting of a representative of each of the railways, and a chairman appointed by the Government, the chairman to have an over-riding vote. This body would have authority to initiate studies of any project suggested by any individual member, and, if a favourable report was made by a majority, or by the chairman alone, the proposal would automatically go before an Arbitral Tribunal for final decision. It was argued that this would relieve the railway companies of the stigma which would attach to agreement to undertake unpopular economies. As to the latter point, it would be most unwise to depend on the Government voluntarily submitting to public odium—as the result of the action of its representatives—a public odium which railway officials themselves admit they have recoiled from incurring. Experience proves that no Government will incur odium knowingly. The suggestion appears to be useless.

It might be pointed out as well that there would seem to be a dangerous responsibility assumed in establishing, as the effective agent of enforced changes in operation or physical assets, a Board on which two members would, as between the two railway systems, be representative of one, and only one representative of the other. It is important to avoid with the utmost care any enforced action which might be the ground of liability to the country later on.

It seems to us the sooner the people of Canada accept the conclusion that co-operation of two competing systems cannot be effective in any worthwhile way in bringing about absolutely needed economies, the better it will be for the establishment of some really effective remedy and for the solvency of our country. In this connection it must never be forgotten that the railways are in a death struggle for a living, and while that struggle continues, each will fight for itself. The consequence of this mutual destructiveness falls on the taxpayers of Canada. It was very strongly urged before your Committee that such mutual destructiveness can only end when the officers and employees of both systems are working wholeheartedly for a single economic end.

UNIFICATION OF MANAGEMENT

The third suggestion made was unified operation by a single management of the Canadian National and the Canadian Pacific, each company continuing to own its respective properties, and no guarantee being given to the Canadian Pacific of a return on its stock or on its bonds or other capital issues. Each company would continue to receive, under unified operation, the net earnings which past actual results over an agreed period of years indicate that each would have received as an independent institution, and additional net earnings made available by the economies of unified operation would be shared between them on an equitable basis. It was intimated that of these additional net earnings the Canadian National should receive at least half. The suggestion was that unified operation would be under the control of a Board to be created by Parliament and to be composed of fifteen directors, five of which would be selected by the Government or by the Canadian National, five by the Canadian Pacific, and the remaining five by the directors already chosen, or by some other appropriate method.

This proposal was met at the outset by two objections:

Firstly:—It was contended that such unified management would create a huge and possibly an oppressive monopoly.

To this objection the following arguments taken from the evidence apply:—

(1) For many years very large sections of the Dominion not served by both railways have lived under the monopoly, if such it be called, of either the Canadian National or the Canadian Pacific, and have done so without any perceptible disadvantage;

(2) The Railways have long ago been stripped of all powers which might render any monopolistic feature injurious to the public interest. The Board of Transport Commissioners holds by Statute supreme authority over them and controls all abandonment of lines, withdrawals or reductions of services, as well as of increases or decreases of rates and fares.

(3) The development of transportation by means of motor cars, buses and trucks (public and private) and by air and water traffic, has created conditions where even under unified railway operation there would be very effective competition anyway, and competition quite difficult to cope with. Indeed, many witnesses, including some who spoke for labour, contended strongly that under the present system of operation it was impossible to meet this competition, and that if the situation is not met effectively, railway labour itself would be direct sufferers, and on a serious scale.

(4) The modern world exists under a great number of monopolies imposed by the free will of the people for the essential purpose of suppressing excessive charges and wastage due to duplication. This is strikingly exemplified in transportation, telephone, water, gas, electricity and other urban services, and in some countries, in railways.

Secondly.—The other objection is based on the apprehension that there would be created a large mass of population, whose united influence might dominate the political life of Canada. To this the answer seems to be that if the interest coalescing the railway employees is an occupational or a professional one it exists already. No more striking evidence of this can be imagined than that the opposition to unified management, as well as to co-operation, voiced by the railway employees of both systems through their unions.

If the interest creating the coalition be a political one, then conditions now are just as favourable for its success as they could be under unified management. Indeed, there are many who believe that such political power is now exercised. Without any doubt at all, pressure is exerted, through their unions, by the mass of employees of both railways, on political parties.

This continuous, concerted pressure is mainly directed to the protection of a fortunate section among all the labouring classes of the country.

This influence is in fact one of the chief obstacles to the settlement of our railway problem. It can only be removed by placing the administration of the Canadian National definitely and finally above political interference and in the hands of capable, strong and thoroughly independent men, whose tenure of office could be attacked only for cause. This could be accomplished by placing our railways under the direction of a properly selected board, whose only object could be the successful operation of a united system.

Any reasonable cause which railway workers might have had to oppose unified management has been eliminated by the proffer of provisions protecting them, in the manner effected in Great Britain, against loss by dismissal, demotion or transfer. It must be remembered that not less than from five to seven years will be essential to attain, step by step, the full results of unification. The evidence indicates that normal attrition, which accrues through death, pension age, or resignation, would remove men from employment faster in the aggregate than would be required during the process of unification, and those who suffer in special cases—for some would so suffer—can be assuredly compensated. These guarantees which have been definitely offered are measures of protection hitherto unknown to the working classes of any industry in the country, and corresponding protection is certainly not enjoyed by any other class.

It was not unreasonable to expect that railway workers would have been reassured by the definite statement to the above effect made on behalf of the Canadian Pacific—which, undoubtedly, would be acceptable to the Government if an arrangement were entered into—and would have withdrawn their opposition to a unified scheme of management. This is especially true because the scheme of compensation would be, and should be, the subject of an agreement in which the wishes of the employees would be fully represented, and the rights under such agreement would become statutory.

The object sought to be attained is the avoidance of financial disaster to our country, in which disaster every class would suffer, and the poorer classes even more than others. It is not, therefore, unjust to ask that all co-operate in a fair spirit to such an end.

Persistence in their present attitude simply means they insist that the taxpayers of Canada, for all time, shall carry the burden of many thousands of positions which are not required. On this point it must be carefully noted that the benefit in the main goes to the more fortunate class of senior employees, while junior men are left to suffer for want of work.

In this connection it is important to keep in mind that the railway business of the Dominion, as indeed of all countries, has been steadily diminishing in volume as compared with business as a whole. The evidence before your Committee led irresistibly to the conclusion that this tendency may be expected to continue.

Mr. Hungerford, President of the Canadian National Railways, submitted in his evidence that the efforts to operate the property on economical lines were circumscribed by what he defined as considerations of "public interest"; that what constitutes "public interest" was really determined by the Government of the day and that if the Canadian National were not a Government enterprise it certainly could not be carried on its present footing.

It may be reasonably inferred, as was indicated by the late Sir Henry Thornton in his evidence before the Royal Commission, that the policy of the Government, whatever might be the efforts of the Canadian National management to operate on sound business lines, is unhappily reflected in the administration of the railway in increases or reductions in personnel, in the carrying out of contracts for works, purchases, etc., which fact largely accounts for the Canadian National spending on operating costs alone last year 96.67 cents for every dollar earned by it, whereas, the Canadian Pacific spent 82.29 cents to earn the same amount.

As a glaring instance of political influence on the policies of the Canadian National, we may cite the fact that the completion of the Montreal Terminal was definitely promised on the hustings by Ministers of the Crown, months before the directors made their recommendation to proceed with the work.

It is submitted that joint managership, by elimination of this and other forms of political interference, and by gradually removing duplications and utterly unnecessary costs in many spheres, might well overcome the major cause of past recurring deficits.

SAVINGS FROM UNIFICATION

Sir Edward Beatty, President of the Canadian Pacific Railway Company, claimed that through the unified management of both railways, savings to the amount of $75,300,000 per annum could be effected under average traffic conditions, which he stated are those of the year 1930. This claim was supported in the greatest detail by a long line of officers of that company. These officers and Sir Edward himself were questioned at length by members of your Committee. Figures and supporting evidence for lesser, but still huge, savings were given, applicable to years of diminished traffic.

As to the method followed to establish such savings, it seems important that it should be described in some detail. The outline which follows is carefully deduced from, and is supported in every particular by, the evidence submitted:—

As to savings by unified management, there were first set out the conclusions arrived at by the respective officials of the two Companies at the request of, and submitted to, the Duff Royal Commission. These conclusions were as follows:—

By the Canadian Pacific officials:

$75,300,000 based on the same scale of operations as prevailed in 1930;

By Canadian National officials:

$50,340,000 based on the scale of operations of 1931.

This would be equivalent to $56,440,000 based on the scale of operations in 1930—the operations of 1930 being about 30 per cent larger than the operations of 1931.

It is clear from the above that the comparable figures are $75,300,000 as presented by Canadian Pacific officials and $56,440,000 as presented by Canadian National officials.

There was then set out a full outline of the very thorough methods adopted in arriving at the above estimates of savings.

The evidence of Canadian Pacific officials was first given and showed that a Committee of officers from the operating, engineering, traffic, mechanical and accounting Departments was constituted and worked over a long period. They surveyed the existing supervisory organizations of the two Railways as independent units, the location and function of the various lines of railway; passenger and freight train services; and terminal and shop facilities. Each phase was taken in hand by officers familiar by experience with each special work. Senior officials were made available for consultation. In a word, the resources of the entire organization were used by the Committee. The efforts of the Committee were directed not to determine any maximum limit of savings, but merely what could reasonably be expected under normal conditions. Methods employed by the Canadian National were described as somewhat unlike those adopted by the Canadian Pacific. Both, however, included economies from reduction in general overhead expenses, traffic solicitation, advertising and regional supervision; line abandonments, re-routing of traffic, increased car and train loading, consolidation of repair work, readjustment of passenger train services, as well as from operating joint freight and passenger terminals, consolidating express and telegraph services, consolidating accounting services and other expenses. There are items which appear in each estimate which are not in the other estimate, but, considering that two different methods were followed in getting together these estimates, there is an added importance to such similarity as appears in the two results. It was brought out in the evidence that in the case of the Canadian Pacific estimate the services of an experienced official of the Great Northern Railway Company were obtained to review very carefully the whole plan of estimating savings which had been adopted. This official, Mr. V. P. Turnburke, General Auditor of the Great Northern, had had to do, himself, with the consolidation of the Great Northern and the Northern Pacific. After a very thorough review on his part, he made certain criticisms and suggestions, and finally reported that in his opinion the committee of the Canadian Pacific, in estimating savings, had proceeded along conservative lines, and he did not hesitate to accept the conclusions reached.

A number of principal officers and engineers of the Canadian Pacific, who had been working on seventeen committees in all, demonstrated, under the several headings in use in railway accounting, the various retrenchments in expenditures estimated to result from unified operation. Most of these headings were divided into sections and even into further sub-sections, in order in each case to build up from the ground two sets of figures—the first set being such as applied to the particular section or sub-section as a part of the two systems when unified, and the other set being the savings in each case resulting from unification.

It cannot be gainsaid that the body of evidence made up by the above process was thorough and impressive.

There is one feature of these savings which should be especially emphasized. Efforts have been made to give the public the impression that savings can only be effected, or can at least mainly be effected, by abandonment of lines. The evidence very clearly demonstrated that savings by abandonment of lines did not amount to more than 10 per cent of the total savings that are realizable. Even this 10 per cent savings, which might be described as attributable to abandonment, included such almost unused short lines as to the abandonment of which no railway made objection. There appeared no intention, on the part of any of those who gave testimony, of abandoning any lines save such as would, after argument from all interested, be deemed by the Transport Commission of Canada as proper to be abandoned without sacrifice of public interest. Very large economies were shown to be realizable without abandonment at all.

The evidence supported, and, save for minor items hereinafter referred to, justified savings to an amount of $75,300,000 for the traffic level of 1930, as established in the Canadian Pacific estimate submitted to the Royal Commission in 1932.

In view of the enquiries made by various members of the Committee, the Canadian Pacific undertook, since the original hearing, the preparation of an estimate on the basis of 1937 traffic level, and this showed savings of $56,346,000 without any line abandonments whatever, and savings of $59,361,000 with allowance for such line abandonments as it was reasonable to assume the Board of Transport Commissioners would authorize under present conditions. This reduction was qualified by the statement that savings would fluctuate with traffic, and, therefore, revert to $75,300,000 should traffic again reach the level of 1930.

The submission of the Canadian Pacific witnesses was necessarily of a technical nature. The same could be said, though in less degree, of the evidence in opposition submitted by the officers of the Canadian National.

To demonstrate the very special character of the argument made on both sides, it is sufficient to refer to the method used, not exclusively but in the main, to establish savings from unification.

This method required the ascertainment of reduction in train and car mileage obtainable without detriment to public service from the consolidation of lightly loaded trains—a consolidation which, manifestly, unified management could bring about—and from the use of the shortest and most economical routes both for passenger and freight. The result, according to the evidence, was a saving of 6,909,939 passenger train miles or 14·3 per cent and 8,897,000 freight train miles, or 15·4 per cent. These percentage reductions and others similarly calculated were used to measure the realizable economy in the different departments where such percentages could properly be applied.

In other cases economy was calculated directly by estimating what reduction would be possible by the consolidation of departments. The train and car mileage formula was used to prove over $50,000,000 out of the $75,373,000 of savings claimed as realizable. Other technical methods were applied either exclusively or jointly with decrease in train mileage to establish the balance of the economy so claimed.

All these calculations were based on the figures of 1930.

The Canadian National officers opposed the above formula and its results by denying that the stated reduction in train mileage is exact, and further by asserting that Canadian Pacific unit costs are not applicable to the Canadian National as the lines of the two railways are not comparable. Evidence was submitted by the Canadian Pacific to show that Canadian Pacific unit costs had not been applied to Canadian National operations, but, where used, had been adopted as the measure of cost possible of achievement by the unified system. The Canadian National officers further contended that the Canadian Pacific calculations took no account of the substantial reduction in expenditures of the former system from 1930 to 1937. The Canadian Pacific admitted that permanent savings made in recent years justified a deduction of $4,801,000 from the original estimate, but showed that additions of $9,056,000 were justified by other known items of change. In addition, the evidence showed that by their very nature the temporary savings made independently by the railways were entirely different from the permanent economies which would be possible under unified management through the elimination of duplicate effort. The revised Canadian Pacific estimate to which reference has been made, having been computed on the basis of 1937 level of traffic, completely disposes, if it is reasonably accurate, of the contention that large economies are no longer available because of individual economies effected by the railways, either on account of reduction in traffic, or otherwise.

From 1930 to 1937, gross revenues of both railways fell 21·6 per cent. Combined expenditures of both railways between the same years was reduced by 20·7 per cent.

Mr. Fairweather seems to be the only Canadian National witness who has surveyed the whole question. The gist of his evidence was that large savings from the unification of railways were impossible of realization, as the public and employees would not tolerate consequent reduction of the services and the creation of a monopoly. When confronted with many items of savings to which these objections did not appear to pertain, even remotely, he gave the impression of unwillingness to consider any savings to which his objections did not apply. This general affirmation was supported also in general terms by Mr. Hungerford, the Canadian National President.

Throughout the testimony of these officers there was a pervading strain of concern for the popularity of the Canadian National Railway and management. This is not an unnatural characteristic, having regard to the atmosphere in which inevitably officers who are answerable only to a Government must live. It cannot, however, be too strongly emphasized that such attitude of mind leads irresistibly to redundant and extravagant services and the sacrifice of the taxpayer.

In connection with Mr. Fairweather's evidence in particular, there must be kept in mind the report made by him and submitted to the Royal Commission of 1932. This report embodied the conclusion that there was a possible saving of $56,230,000 from unification on the traffic level of 1930, and $50,090,000 for 1931, which latter year approximated closely the traffic conditions of 1937. Further, this report was made at the request of the late Sir Henry Thornton and submitted in train conference to the Royal Commission. It is important also to note that it was prepared prior to the constitution of that Royal Commission, and before the Canadian Pacific, at the request of the Commission, began work on its estimate. For the preparation of the above report Mr. Fairweather had the collaboration of seven technical assistants and access to any information he desired from the Canadian Pacific.

Mr. Fairweather's original estimate is elaborate and comprises an explanatory memo of 12 pages and schedules of 39 pages. Although prepared by a totally different method, it appears to corroborate generally Sir Edward Beatty's contention as shown by the following comparison of the two estimates under their main headings:—

ESTIMATES BY CANADIAN NATIONAL AND CANADIAN PACIFIC
RESPECTIVELY OF POSSIBLE SAVINGS THROUGH UNIFICATION
BASED ON THE LEVEL OF TRAFFIC FOR 1930

	C.N.R.	C.P.R.
Increased railway operating revenues.....	$ 6,540,000	$ 1,396,000

Transportation and miscellaneous operations....	20,047,000	24,954,000
Maintenance of Way and Structures.....	3,423,000	14,889,000
Maintenance of Equipment.....	7,797,000	14,360,000

Miscellaneous.....	600,000	311,000
Grand Total.....	$56,230,000	$75,373,000

Details show items in each estimate that are not in the other, which indicates that a combination of both estimates might well produce potential fields of economy greater than the total of either.

Mr. Fairweather also gave evidence as to possible savings under co-operation. In this his opinion appeared to undergo very considerable variations as he first appraised savings under this head at $35,000,000, then at $24,000,000, subsequently again at $10,000,000, and finally stated that such estimates were but guesses on his part. It is difficult to appraise the value of evidence so submitted.

This very brief analysis of the evidence suffices to reveal its technical character. While the undersigned feel, as probably other members of your Committee feel, that after many months of close study of this situation, and after having had the advantage of hearing scores of witnesses on every phase of the subject and of questioning such witnesses, they have been able to reach a dependable conclusion on the merits of the conflicting contentions advanced respectively by officers of the two railway companies, they are also of the opinion that not being possessed themselves of special expert knowledge on these subjects, the public would be better served and better satisfied if it could be supplied with the findings of an impartial tribunal of experts, qualified by training and experience to report on the evidence submitted. Accordingly, a motion was made before your Committee on May 2, 1939, in the following terms:—

That the evidence before this Committee be submitted to a firm of Railway Engineers and Accountants of high standing, free from all interest in either Railway System, to the end that such firm may study said evidence, and especially its practical Railway engineering and accounting features, and make such physical examinations as it may deem necessary with a view to making full report to this Committee as to what in the judgment of such firm would be the amount of savings which could be effected by a system of unified management, and whether and to what extent, if any, such savings would entail impairment of service to the Canadian people.

This motion, we regret to say, was defeated.

The undersigned are of opinion that such investigation need not have entailed very great expense, because, first, the evidence is already submitted, and, secondly, investigation on the premises would only be necessary in rare cases, because facts, maps, plans and other necessary data are already available and can be made open to inspection at the offices of the respective companies. The undersigned further are of opinion that only by means of such report could the full value of the vast mass of information, which your Committee has accumulated, be obtained and utilized by the Canadian people.

The undersigned consider it a matter of much significance that on this question which should have been dealt with as a pure question of savings to the people of Canada in the operation of the nation's railways, in which question necessarily the provision of essential services would be a part, there should be found two distinctly opposite sets of opinion among railway officials, and that one set should be entirely confined to the Canadian Pacific and the other set entirely confined to the Canadian National. The question considered as above defined is, or should be, essentially one and the same for both systems. The only conclusion is that considerations other than those included in the above definition must have intervened.

At this point again the undersigned further beg to emphasize the overwhelming necessity, from the standpoint of the whole country, from the standpoint of its credit and solvency, and for the good of every class and every community of the Dominion, that some solution definite and effective must be found, and found without further avoidable delay.

CONCLUSIONS

In the terms of your Committee's appointment, your Committee was assigned a very definite duty, namely:—

to inquire into and report upon the best means of relieving the country from its extremely serious railway condition, and financial burden consequent thereto.

To comply with the above commitment, a full inquiry had first to be made. This has been done. After inquiry, the next duty is to "report," and such report must disclose what in the judgment of your Committee is a "means of relieving the country from its extremely serious railway condition, and financial burden consequent thereto"; and the "means" reported must be, in the judgment of those reporting, the "best" means as shown by the evidence submitted.

The undersigned are utterly unable to find in the evidence any hope whatever of relief from any other source than that hereinafter indicated in this report.

We further are of opinion that if, contrary to the evidence, effective relief can possibly emerge out of any other of the suggested policies, such policies applied to the extent absolutely essential to bring such measure of relief will be open to whatever objections, if any, can be offered to the course hereinafter indicated.

We are impressed by the following considerations:

(1) That huge competing businesses struggling for a living in the same field can in general, and probably always, effect tremendous economies by unified operations;

(2) That such unified operations as have in a very minor way been put in effect in respect of our railways have already shown large percentage reductions. In the case, for example, of the pool trains, there has been shown an operating saving of 33 per cent, though such pool trains still carry the waste of duplication in terminals, yards, etc.

(3) That in addition to savings in year to year operations, new capital requirements for one singly-managed system should be very substantially less than new capital requirements for two competing systems.

(4) That assuming the public interest can be protected and essential services maintained, there would seem to be strikingly important opportunities for saving by some plan of unified management in respect of two such systems as now exist in Canada.

To ensure the full conservation of every essential public interest and public service, and to safeguard the interests of Canada, the undersigned recommend insistence on the conditions enumerated below in respect of any system of unified management which may be worked out. The undermentioned stipulations are not advanced with any thought that they are all-inclusive. We believe, however, that conditions in Canada, both as affecting the Dominion on the one hand, and as affecting the Canadian Pacific Railway Company on the other, are such that all necessary and reasonable provisions can be arrived at and agreed upon. The following objectives should be secured:—

i. There should be no obligation, legal or moral, implied or expressed whereby the country assumes any liability in respect of Canadian Pacific obligations or securities, either as to capital or interest;

ii. Any plan of unified management adopted should be such that the resulting operation can in no sense be dominated by the Canadian Pacific Railway Company;

iii. Out of earnings up to the average aggregate earnings of both systems over such a period of years as may be agreed upon, the Canadian National must be assured the same share of such earnings as it has enjoyed of such average earnings;

iv. Out of earnings above such average earnings, which presumably will be earnings due to economies effected by unified management, the Canadian National should receive not less than one-half;

v. New capital investments, limited as they will be to joint requirements, should be provided for on a basis of definite and individual responsibility for respective shares of the capital on the part of the Canadian National (or of the Dominion of Canada), on the one hand, and of the Canadian Pacific Railway Company on the other hand.

vi. Both parties should agree to such enlargement of the powers and supervision of the Board of Transport Commissioners as may be deemed necessary to protect and serve every public interest.

The agreement is merely that there can be no complaint when it does come.

vii. In view of the very extensive economies to be attained, and to the end that the process may not involve undue hardship on anyone, provision should be made for the due protection, by both systems, of labour adversely affected by such economies, along the lines lately followed by the railways of Great Britain.

viii. Agreement to all provisions should be obtained from each separate class of security holders of the Canadian Pacific and of the Canadian National, insofar as such latter security holders are not already protected by government guarantee.

The undersigned are of opinion that on the evidence submitted this country can look only to a system of unified management for relief; that the evidence demonstrates that relief can in fact be obtained under such a system, provided complete absence of political interference is assured in the Statutory terms creating such system; and are further of opinion that same can be done with ample and complete protection of all public interests.

REPORT OF THE JOINT COMMITTEE ON

which met on May 23rd, 1939

The following recommendations were adopted by the Committee:—

(1) That the lighting condition in the Library of Parliament be improved by removing present reflectors in the main area under the dome, and replacing them by improved type installed and fitted with 500 watt lamps;

That the present wiring from panel-boards to the above-mentioned lights be cleared of any grounds.

(2) That the floor in the Library of Parliament be put into a satisfactory condition by removing present flooring, sub-flooring and sleepers under and covering the whole area with material for cement finish and laying thereon rubber tiling to special design, as especially recommended by the Department of Public Works, on account of its quietness to the tread and the ease with which it is kept clean and it lends itself to any special floor design required—which would be in conformity with the present design of the present floor and the general design of the woodwork of the Library.

(3) That a thorough inspection be made of the heating system in the Library of Parliament, and that the necessary measures as recommended by the Department of Public Works be taken immediately to remedy defective conditions, in order that irreparable damage be not done to valuable books, by leakages or leaking pipes, etc.

(4) That the old-fashioned fire apparatus presently installed in the Library of Parliament be replaced by modern fire extinguishers, in order to diminish or prevent all danger of fire and consequent irreparable loss.

(5) That the Chief of the Joint Parliamentary Distribution Office be instructed to supply to the Library of Parliament two copies of each official publication received at that branch for distribution.

(6) That the members of the Committee regret the passing of the Honourable Martin Burrell, Parliamentary Librarian, whose kindly and courteous personality endeared him to those who were in close contact with him. He was a statesman, a man of Letters as well as a warm friend, a delightful companion. His death constitutes a loss to the whole Dominion, and he will especially be long remembered by the Members of Parliament and other habitués of the Library.

The Committee discussed the question of closing the Library on Sundays. It was considered more advisable to continue the practice of keeping open on Sundays, during the sessions of Parliament, from 4 to 6 o'clock, p.m.

The General Librarian informed the Committee that space in the new Archives Building at the Experimental Farm had been secured to relieve the present congestion in the Library, and that 52,000 volumes had already been moved into the new quarters.

So it was resolved in the affirmative.

The question being again put on the motion for the third reading of the Bill, as amended,

After debate,

It was, on division, resolved in the affirmative.

The said Bill, as amended, was then read the third time.

The question was put whether this Bill, as amended, shall pass.

It was resolved in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk do go down to the House of Commons and acquaint that House that the Senate have passed this Bill with several amendments to which they desire their concurrence.

It being six o'clock, the Honourable the Speaker left the Chair to resume the same at half-past eight o'clock.

The Senate resumed.

A Message was brought from the House of Commons by their Clerk in the following words:—

SATURDAY, 3rd June, 1939.

Resolved, That a Message be sent to the Senate to acquaint their Honours that this House agrees to their amendments, Nos. 7, 10, 11, 12, 13, 14 and 16, to Bill No. 132, "An Act to incorporate the Central Mortgage Bank," and disagrees to amendments Nos. 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 8, 9, 15, 17, 18, 19 and 20 for the following reasons: —

1. Because the amendments would make it impossible to accomplish several of the fundamental objectives of the Bill as passed by this House.

2. Because these amendments would deprive tens of thousands of owners of non-farm homes in all provinces of Canada of the privilege of having their mortgages adjusted in accordance with the provisions of the Bill, and particularly of having the interest rate on such mortgages reduced to a rate not in excess of five and one-half per cent.

3. Because these amendments would result in only a relatively small saving to the Dominion Treasury and the cost which the Treasury would still have to bear would be out of all proportion to the benefits obtained by the nation.

4. Because with these amendments the Bill would not accomplish a major objective of the Bill which relates to the permanent improvement of mortgage lending practices in this country. Companies eligible to become member companies of the proposed Central Mortgage Bank now confine most of their lending activities to mortgages on non-farm homes. Consequently, the provisions of the Bill designed to make available long term funds at low interest rates to be lent in accordance with the principles in subsection (3) of section 22 of the Bill would have little practical effect; and disagrees with amendment No. 1 for the following reasons:

1. Because this amendment would deprive farmers who entered into agreements for sale during the year 1938 at a time when grain prices were high, and following a year in which there had been a good harvest, of the privilege of having their agreements for sale adjusted in accordance with the provisions of the Bill.

2. Because in many cases the original cash payments made by such farmers were very small and with the decline in prices and poorer crops in the year 1938 such farmers now have little or no equity in their farms;

Ordered,—That the Clerk do carry the said Message to the Senate.

ARTHUR BEAUCHESNE,

Clerk of the Commons.

Ordered, That the said Message be taken into consideration presently.

Accordingly, the Senate proceeded to the consideration of the said Message.

After debate, and—

On motion, it was—

Resolved,—That the Senate do not insist upon its 1st, 2nd, 3rd, 4th, 5th, 6th, 8th, 9th, 15th, 17th, 18th, 19th and 20th amendments, to which the House of Commons have disagreed.

Ordered, That a Message be sent to the House of Commons to inform that House accordingly.

The Senate adjourned during pleasure.

The Senate resumed.

The Honourable the Speaker informed the Senate that he had received a communication from the Assistant Secretary to the Governor General.

The same was then read by the Honourable the Speaker, as follows:—

After which the Right Honourable the Deputy Governor General was pleased to close the Fourth Session of the Eighteenth Parliament of the Dominion of Canada, with the following Speech:—

Honourable Members of the Senate:

Members of the House of Commons:

In bringing to a close a session in which, for the first time, The King has been present in person in the Parliament of Canada, I desire to express the gratification of my government at the universal and heartfelt rejoicing of a united people who are being honoured by the Visit of Their Sovereign.

I wish, at the same time, to thank you for the attention you have given to the many problems which Canada, like other countries, faces in these critical times.

It was a source of satisfaction to my government that His Majesty was able to give the Royal Assent in person to the Bill respecting the Canada-United States Trade Agreement. This Agreement and the other measures which have been enacted to meet exceptional conditions in the basic industries, and to improve marketing facilities will be of direct advantage to the primary producers in all parts of the Dominion, and will be reflected in increased trade and employment.

Provision has been made for the establishment of a Central Mortgage Bank with the object of easing the burden of debt upon farmers and homeowners.

I am gratified that, by the extension of the Youth Training Program, provision has been made to apply the strength and enthusiasm of youth to the conservation and development of our great forest resources.

The insecurity of the world to-day has made necessary increased provision for national defence.

It is my hope that the desire for peace, which lies so close to the hearts of the peoples of all countries, will yet serve to avert international strife, and to restore among nations co-operation, understanding, and goodwill.

Members of the House of Commons:

I thank you for the provision you have made for the public service.

Honourable Members of the Senate:

Members of the House of Commons:

In taking leave of you at this time, I pray that the blessing of Divine Providence may rest upon your labours.

The Honourable the Speaker of the Senate then said:—

Honourable Members of the Senate:

Members of the House of Commons:

It is the Right Honourable the Deputy Governor General's will and pleasure that this Parliament be prorogued until Thursday, the thirteenth day of July, next, to be here holden, and this Parliament is accordingly prorogued until Thursday, the thirteenth day of July, next.
